Since 1931... Partnering with Rocky Mountain National Park

Founded in 1931, the Rocky Mountain Conservancy is the nonprofit partner of Rocky Mountain National Park. Our primary mission is to provide philanthropic and programmatic support to Rocky Mountain National Park, including funding for youth education through our Next Generation Fund. We also work with our State Park, Forest Service and BLM partner agencies to provide educational services and support for public lands in Colorado and Wyoming.

In addition to its educational and visitor services programs, the Rocky Mountain Conservancy also raises funds to support and enhance Rocky. With the assistance and generosity of thousands of donors, members, and partners, the Conservancy has raised more than $30 million and completed more than 54 significant projects in the park since its inception.

Our mission

The Rocky Mountain Conservancy promotes stewardship of Rocky Mountain National Park and similar lands through education and philanthropy.

Dear Friends,

With each passing year at the Rocky Mountain Conservancy, we are humbled and proud of the many accomplishments this organization achieves with our friends, donors and volunteers, and through the hard work of our committed staff. This year was no exception. Of special note, in 2017, we were able to protect a critical inholding in the Wild Basin area, remove the cabin and salvage the contents for Habitat For Humanity, and restore the 12.5-acre property and its scenic viewshed to its natural state.

Here are just a few of the highlights:

- Made progress on the future of Cascade Cottages. This summer, historic furnishing and objects in the cabin were inventoried and protected to ensure that the most critical antiques are protected in park museum collections. We look forward to working with the park on the next steps for future use of the park, supporting our shared educational missions.
- Continued recovery efforts for the 2013 flood by securing matching funding to rebuild the Alluvial Fan Trail, making it accessible and sustainable for future generation.
- Hosted our inaugural High School Leadership Corps, immersing 10 young people from Colorado in a meaningful work experience in the park. This program was supported by the Conservancy's Rocky Mountain National Park specialty license plate funds. We hope to further expand the number of students served in 2018.
- Documented a record-breaking week of visitors at our State Park and Forest Service partner sites in Casper, WY, during the highly anticipated solar eclipse which brought an unprecedented number of viewers to the region.
- Augmented our engagement with Latino communities by increasing Conservancy outreach programming through the Field Institute, supporting park education programs, and offering more Spanish-language opportunities to learn about the park.
- Donated hundreds of books to 4th graders participating in the NPS Every Kid in Park program to encourage awareness of Rocky's local and regional history.
- Transferred a significant parcel of land, held by the Conservancy on the park's west side, to the Forest Service, ensuring permanent protections for this critical

With each trail we rehabilitate, with each class we teach through our Field Institute; and, with each child we introduce to our public lands, we are planting a lasting seed for the future. We extend our most sincere thanks for being our partner in this cause. Together, we will protect, conserve and steward our beloved Rocky Mountain National Park for years to come. Together we grow!

Estee Rivora Murdock
Executive Director

Fulfilling Our Mission

The Rocky Mountain Conservancy provides services, educational experiences and materials to enhance Rocky Mountain National Park and surrounding public lands for all park visitors. We strive to be responsive to this mission with a strong business model and efficient practices, as well as through engaging programming and the creation of compelling educational materials.

The Membership Connection

Our membership serves to build a constituency of support for the park. It informs them about our mission and activities, connects them to learning opportunities and inspires them to be supporters of future park projects. Overall memberships continue to increase. Contributions were up 11% in 2016, with a continued increase of new members, up 19% in 2016. Primarily through improved communications pieces, upgraded member benefits, better sales techniques at visitor centers, and through special promotions, we continue to attract support for the organization with strong renewal rates for longtime members.

Volunteer Days

In 2017, the Conservancy began hosting regular community volunteer projects to invite members of the public to support on-the-ground projects in Rocky Mountain National Park. Over the course of two volunteer days in September and October, the Conservancy mobilized more than 80 volunteers, contributed 200 hours of service, picked up about 300 pounds of trash, and helped restore native vegetation in Moraine Park.

Next Generation Education

A group of children and adults are gathered around a yellow school bus in a mountainous area. The bus has "PARK SCHOOL" written on its side. In the background, there are mountains with snow-capped peaks under a clear blue sky. The foreground is a grassy field with some trees showing autumn foliage.

Next Generation Programs

Junior Ranger program: Rocky's Junior Ranger program continues to excite and engage young people with park wildlife, flora and outdoor ethics. The Conservancy funds the printing of the Junior Ranger activity booklets as well as the production of badges through the Next Generation Fund. In 2017, more than 48,000 Junior Ranger books were distributed, with a total of 17,973 badges awarded. Adding upper-level activities to the age 9-and-up booklet has helped this particular book hold the position as the most requested Junior Ranger book in the park. Junior Ranger books are offered both in English and Spanish.

Heart of the Rockies Education Program:

What makes for a transformative experience for children in the outdoors? For many, it's their first experience in nature. More than 225 school and youth groups attended programs in 2017 with Rocky Mountain National Park's Outreach and Education program- serving students from Colorado Springs to Cheyenne. An estimated 70% of the almost 12,000 learners were experiencing their first outdoor adventure, discovering and learning about the unique resources of Rocky Mountain National Park. For some, it was their first visit to a national park— what a significant opportunity!

Support from the Next Generation Fund has been crucial in creating these valuable experiences. That support includes $15,000 annually to help schools that cannot afford bus transportation costs to the park as well as supplies and materials for programming. In addition, the Next Generation Fund provided $84,296 in stipends, training, and housing costs for the cadre of education interns who are mentored by the park's education rangers — and most of these interns are just starting their professional careers working with children outdoors, nurturing curiosity and inspiring the next generation of stewards. It is a skill that continues to grow long after their internship experience is complete.

Nature Stores Welcome You

Building Connections with Public Lands Through Visitor Services

The Conservancy plays an important role with Rocky Mountain National Park and with our other public lands partners by giving these natural areas a way to engage with visitors, reaching them on both an emotional and intellectual level. In addition to supporting the operations of the Rocky Mountain Conservancy, the funds generated through the sale of educational products in the five Nature Stores in Rocky help the park in two ways: by providing educational materials to expand the visitor experience and instilling meaningful memories; and by funding educational programs and projects of the national park and other public lands.

This year in Rocky Mountain National Park, sales to park visitors continued to hold steady, following three years of steady increase, at over $2.8 million. More than a half a million in sales was for books and maps. The amount of “direct aid” to the park from sales in 2017 was $105,000, which provided funding for programs and supplies needed by program staff, including the printing the park newspaper, printing site bulletins, providing ranger program supplies, staff training, museum support, Latino outreach programs, special events, and a much needed sign printer. An additional $205,000 from visitor store sales was put aside in our Best Use fund, to be used for the highest needs of RMNP.

Partnering With Public Lands

Other Public Lands Support News

The organization also partners with 25 State Parks, the Bureau of Land Management and Forest Service areas in Colorado and Wyoming to provide funding for educational efforts at these wildland sites. Of the site-specific educational items sold, a percentage of gross sales was returned as aid to each site, totaling $87,734.

Florissant Fossil Beds National Monument — Aid funds to this site were used for interpretive exhibit consultations with Uintah Ouray Ute tribal members, as well as to purchase an iPad to be used for fossil specimen inventory and monitoring projects.

Grand Mesa Visitor Center — Aid funds generated through sales were used to print the new Walk the Discovery Trail brochure.

National Historic Trails Interpretive Center — This site's aid funds were used to purchase 2000 lbs. of sculpting clay for local Wyoming Native American high school art show exhibits, and to sponsor the volunteers who recreate historical events at Wyoming Heritage Days. Additionally, this location was able to sponsor volunteers to install and operate historic railroad displays and blacksmith shop operations at the annual open house.

Centennial Visitor Center — This Forest Service Nature Store in Medicine Bow National Forest used their aid to fund 720 hours of volunteer stipends, as well as to distribute free Smokey Bear interpretive swag to children throughout the summer.

South Park Ranger District — The aid from this Nature Store funded more than 1200 hours of volunteer stipends, and they also hosted a summer pancake breakfast and Boreas Pass Railroad Day ice cream events.

Educational Programming is the seed

Field Institute Program Expands Reach

Field Institute Program Blossoms and Grows Conservancy Field Institute classes offer hands-on learning experiences in Rocky Mountain National Park. In 2017, Field Institute classes continued to serve a variety of audiences on park related topics with a total of 6106 participants and our kids/family classes continued to grow. We also held 69 outreach programs with 3,829 participants which translates into broader public reach through custom programs.

Conservation Corps Crews Delve into Wilderness

In 2017, the Rocky Mountain Conservancy hosted thirty-six youth in the Conservation Corps for an eleven-week opportunity to work, live and learn in Rocky Mountain National Park and the surrounding Arapaho-Roosevelt National Forests. These crews provided more than 12,000 hours of volunteer service on public lands, completing projects related to trail maintenance and construction, historic preservation, habitat restoration, and wilderness preservation. Altogether, the crews maintained more than 225 miles of trail maintenance, constructed more than 1,452 drainage structures, built 267 feet of turnpike, repaired ten backcountry stream crossings, planted 2,480 native plant species, installed 50 bear bins at campsites, built more than 2.5 miles of trail, and rebuilt a 1,200 square foot deck. This work was complemented with educational programs, career development, and trainings focused on leadership and communication.

Conservancy Adds High School Leadership Program to Conservation Corps Program

Ten high school youth came from Colorado and represented the growing diversity in this state. They spent 12 days camping, working and learning in Rocky Mountain National Park. During that time they planted 1,000 native plants, removed 12 pounds of trash, built four slash piles for fire fuel management, constructed 20 feet of turnpike and 20 feet of boardwalk, rebuilt 150 feet of trail with three horse ramps and three rock walls, and maintained seven miles of trail. All of this was coupled with experiential education events in Rocky, leadership development through trainings and feedback sessions, and resume workshops. This program was made possible through the Conservancy's License Plate program donors..

Conservancy Education Interns Funded

Thanks to a generous donation from Carol Ann and Alan Olson of Boulder, Colorado, and the Justine and Leslie Fidel-Bailey Trust, the Conservancy was able to provide, once again, three six-month fellowships to deserving students. Fellowship duties include: developing professional goals, teaching interactive nature activities and programs with the local middle school, assisting with program development, planning and implementation, completing basic advertising and marketing projects, presenting informational programs about educational activities in RMNP, drafting news releases and feature articles and engaging in community outreach and events. In 2017, three Education Fellows were supported: Dominic Rickicki, New York, (January-May, 2017), Rachel Donabedian, Maryland, (May-October, 2017), and Morgan Lawrence, Montana (May-October, 2017).

Communication and Educational Product Development
 Publishing books, guides, and visitor service products remains an enduring facet of our efforts supporting the park's educational mission.

The Quarterly newsletter is a 16-page magazine is developed on a quarterly basis for Conservancy members and donors. Approximately 26,000 newsletters were mailed in 2017, with an online "teaser" newsletter sent to more than 8,000 people each quarter.

New Products Developed
 A custom RMNP puzzle was produced, featuring the wildflowers of Wild Basin, as well as a Rocky hiking icon that was designed as part of a Rocky series, along with the accompanying stickers, patches, pins that carry this design.

Reprints of our most popular books and guides
 Reprints in 2017 include: the Bear Lake Nature Trail, Lulu City: A Walk Through Time, Old Fall River Road Guide Holzwarth Trout Lodge Historic Site, and the Trail Ridge Road guide.

Website Improvements
 Along with general news and regular content updates, new content pages were added to the website, including the Member Archive, a Financials page as well as a Board of Direc-

Philanthropy in Action

Cascade Cottages Property Transferred to RMNP

We are thrilled to report that the Cascade Cottages property now belongs to Rocky Mountain National Park! In mid-March, 2017, the Trust for Public Land, which had purchased and held this private, commercial inholding while the Rocky Mountain Conservancy and the National Park Service secured the needed funds, transferred ownership of the approximately 40-acre parcel to the park. With your help, the Conservancy raised the necessary money a year ahead of schedule. Thank you!

Wild Basin Property

It could have been a worst-case scenario for Rocky Mountain National Park: a “Land for Sale” sign going up in one of the most popular areas of the park and within lands designated as Wilderness. If not for a quick response from the Rocky Mountain Conservancy, a 12.5-acre property was about to be listed for sale for only the second time in the last 70 years. With a 2,000-square-foot house perched on a rocky overlook and easy motorized access, the demand for this private property within Wild Basin would have been great. Instead, the Conservancy, with assistance from the Wilderness Land Trust and the National Park Trust, secured its purchase for the park. The property was purchased on December 14.

Rocky License Plate a Winner!

We are pleased to report that the Rocky Mountain National Park Group Special Colorado State License Plate has, for a second year, proven to be a winner! With 100% of the $30 donation earmarked for park projects, 2,334 plates were distributed in 2017, with about 487 of these recipients donating an additional $7,665. This program raised a grand total of $70,020 while generating valuable, brand new contacts for the Conservancy. As you drive around Colorado, keep your eyes peeled for this fun plate!

Conservancy Earns Coveted GuideStar Rating

The Rocky Mountain Conservancy recently earned the coveted Gold GuideStar Nonprofit Profile participation level! This leading symbol of nonprofit transparency and accountability is presented by GuideStar, the world's largest source of nonprofit information. In order to be awarded the Gold Seal of Transparency, the Conservancy provided basic contact information, financial information, and our goals, strategies, capabilities, indicators, and progress, so you can donate with confidence. ### RMNP-Bailey Research Fellowship Contributions to Global Climate Change Research

This generous fellowship initiated in 1995 by Justine and Leslie Fidel-Bailey enabled graduate student Isabella Oleksy to study the effects of our changing climate on high-altitude lakes in the park in 2016. The data Isabella collected during her important research will be added to data collected from lakes all over the world in an effort to document and track the effects of global climate change. In 2017, Timothy Korpita was appointed as the research fellow. He studied boreal toads and the potential of soil bacteria to fight fungal infections in endangered species.

Bailey Education Fellowship

The Justine and Leslie Fidel-Bailey donor-advised fund extended the original gift in 2013 with the Bailey Education Fellowship. This fellowship provides a student interested in environmental education careers the opportunity to gain experience working and teaching in RMNP. The 2016 education fellow (June - October, 2016) was Katie Oliver, from Portland, OR.

The Next Generation Fund at Work.

RMNP Internship Program Support

As part of the Conservancy's Next Generation Fund program, a percentage of fundraised dollars is designated to support the park's educational internship program. Park interns interact with and assist the visiting public, answering questions at a variety of visitor centers, Sheep Lakes Information Station and during roving assignments.

- The Conservancy funded 27 park interns in 2017 for $99,640 as well as four seasonal education rangers for $84,296.
- This included six Environmental Education Interns that supported the park's environmental education program to reach its annual goal of serving some 11,400 school-aged children through outreach and on-site educational visits and one seasonal greenhouse intern.
- Thirteen of these Interpretive Interns provided essential staffing and information to the public at the park's five visitor centers who researched and prepared interpretive educational programs and received coaching feedback on their public programs throughout their season, receiving credit through Colorado State University.
- NGF-funded interns in this program led winter ecology and mountain safety snowshoe programs and conducted spring and fall field studies with Estes Park students and high-needs inner city Denver schools
- Public programs developed and offered by interns included Discovery Day, Cunning Coyote, Little Critters of Rocky, and others
- Interns participated in up to two career days to learn about and interact with other park service staff.
